FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MONDAY, Oct. 12-6 P. M. The gold market has been active to-day, and turing the forenoon it was vigorously hammered y the bears, the result of which was a decline from by the bears, the result of which was a decline from 189% at the opening to 187%; but subsequently there was a rally, owing partly to doubts as to the result of the elections to-morrow, and the closing transactions prior to the adjournment of the board at three o'clock were at 137%. Following this there was a further advance to 188 a 188%, but this price stimulated fresh sales, and the latest quotation on the street was 127% a 137%. There was an active borrowing demand for coin, and loans were made at 1-16, 3-64, 1-32 and 1-64 per cent per diem nd 5 a 6 per cent per annum for borrowing, as well s "flat," and at two per cent per annum for carryg. The gross clearings amounted to $105,097,000 e gold balances to $1,910,576 and the currency bal the gold balances to $1,910,578 and the currency balances to $2,757,354. The Sub-Treasury disbursed $4,868 in coin during the day in payment of interest an the public debt. The imports of specie at this port from foreign ports last week aggregated $229,775, making a total of $6,106,070 since the beginning of the year. Mr. Van Dyck, the Assistant Treasurer, efficially advertised this afternoon that he will receive proposals for the purchase of $300,000 of government gold per diem for ten consecutive business days, commencing on the 14th inst., in lots of not less than $5,000, the awards to be made to the highest budders. The proposals will be received from aleven to twelve o'clock on each day and the awards will be made immediately after noon. This is a decided improvement upon the system of secret eided improvement upon the system of secret sales, and we are glad to find that Messrs. McCulloch and Van Dyck have been sumdently influenced by the force of public opinion to make the change; but this new plan is not without ections, as it leaves room for favoritism in the se-lection of the bids, while it prevents the competitors from bidding the full market price at the moment they send in their proposals, owing to the delay which must occur before their bids are accepted or rejected and the uncertainty attending the course of the premium in the interval. The better way would be for the gold to be sold by auction in the Sub-Treasury building by a Treasury clerk to the highest bidder viva coce, and thus the price then current in the Gold Room would be secured, while every transaction would have the fullest pubwhile every transaction would have the fullest publicity. We trust that Mr. Van Dyok will see the ad visability of specifying the amount of his sales of gold and bonds in his daily statement of the busines f the Sub-Treasury, and that the new arrangemen will be practically carried out, as it should be, in a manner above suspicion. The effect of these sales will be to increase the supply of cash gold and therefore to enable the bears to make their deliveries with greater case. The elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana were the theme of conversation in the Gold Room, and the upward reaction in the fternoon having been influenced by rumors of a robable democratic majority in Pennsylvania it is air to presume that in the event of an opposite view of the case being taken to-morrow the bears will re-new their attack upon the market in force, the spefall. The price varied at intervals as follows:-

The stock market has been on the whole active and variable. During the early part of the day it had a sectining tendency, but it subsequently became strong, and Erie, which had sold down to 47%, ad winced suddenly to 48%, and during the remainder of the afternoon fluctuated between 47% and 47% slowing heavy. The annual election of this company will be held from eleven A. M. to two P. M. to-mor row, and the result is awaited with interest. New York Central was barely steady and but lightly dealt in, and in connection with this company we have to correct a statement made yesterday to the effect that it is carrying freight from New York to Chicago for $8 per ton, the rate being now $11 per ton by rail the entire distance. The Milwaukee and St. Pan rail the entire distance. The Milwaukee and St. Paul and Northwestern stocks were particularly buoyant and reached higher figures than they have ever before touched. Pacific Mail was quiet, and towards the close it declined slightly. Mariposa preferred was the leading feature of the miscellaneous list, and advanced to 23 under an active demand. Money was in good supply to stock houses at six and seven per cent, but the higher rate was almost invariably asked by the banks and trust companies. There was a very moderate business transacted in the discount line, and the best grade of commercial paper passed at the legal rate. The general trade of the city, as well as of the country generally, is moderately brisk for the season and is conducted on a very conservative basis, the disposition to avoid overtrading and long credits being general; while we look in vain for any marked speculative features, except among the grain operators in the West. The dry goods trade was dull to-day and there was was moderately large, the bidding rather spirited and the prices about the same as those current last

A comparison of the statement of the associated banks of this city for the week ending on Saturday hast with that of the corresponding week in each of the three previous years shows the following

REAL ESTATE MATTERS. Brooklyn Suburbs-Extension of the City on the Line-Broadway Lots in the Eastern District, Yates Avenue in the Western.

The majority of the residents of this city have but little knowledge of the rapid growth and extension of the city of Brooklyn. Twin in its development and increase in population with New York, its suburbs, like those of its more powerful neighbor, offer to the observer marveilous sights of the city's progress. Streets and avenues, curbed, graded and paved, appear as if by magic where but yesterday were country roads, Soon sheltons of rows of building line the way on either side. gress. Streets and avenues, curbed, graded and paved, appear as if by magic where but yesterday were country roads. Soon sheltons of rows of buildings line the way, on either side, as though they grew spontaneously from a rich soil, and blossom into stores and dwelling houses filled with a motley population ere yet there was time to study their source and origin. Churches and schools are found among them, like varieties of a luxuriant vegetation, and before wonder has ceased at all this change from a wild waste of barren field and common the new blocks are merged in the great city, which again reaches out its arms to draw fresh acres to its busy uses. Signs of improvement, appear fail along the eastern line of the city, extending from Flatbush to Greenpoint: "www looking houses, glowing with the western time of the city, extending from Flatbush to Greenpoint: "www looking houses, glowing with the western time of fresh paint, arrest the Great every step and stare at you as you pass by with an air of self-assertion like new people, who carry the glitter of their lately acquired wealth about them, regard those whom they don't know on the crowded thoroughfare, Nowhere are these tokens of rapid growth more numerous than back of Williamsburg. The frugal Germans, who have built up and peopled the Sixteenth ward and so usurped its precincts that the name Dutchtown given to it by its neighbors is but descriptive of its ethnological character, are pushing their occupancy further out in the direction of the sister colony at East New York, and land lying between the two and adjacent to either is eagerly inquired for by them and under this stimulus being rapidly purchased and improved. Yesterday shirty-seven lots thus located were sold under the hammer by Eckert & Walter, and the prices at which they were sold show the natural appreciation the several conditions above recited have entailed. Viewed solely with regard to those last stated these lots were choice and Select, while regarded in any other light they are admirably

THE FINANCES OF VINGINIA. Important Correspondence Between General

Important Correspondence Between General Stoneman and Governor Wells. [From the Richmond Waig, Oct. 12.]
Under date September 17 William H. Davidge, Prostdent of the Facilia Mail Steamship Company, wrote a letter from Wiesbaden to Major General Stoneman, commanding the First Military District, asking that the interest on the States bonds held in Europe be paid at once. He states that the stering debt is very small and that the semi-annual coupons amount to but £9,300. He urges payment, because Europeans cannot be made to understand why there should be a suspension of payment now that the war is over. He thinks the delay is seriously injuring the credit of the State abroad, and urges prompt payment of the interest due foreign bondholders as the only means of restoring it to a healthy basis.

On the 8th of October Mr. Davider's letter was for.

bondholders as the only means of restoring it to a healthy basis.

On the 8th of October Mr. Davidge's letter was forwarded to the Governor with the following endorsation:—"Referred to his Excellency the Governor of Virginia, for his information, by command of Major General Stoneman."

Governor wells, Repl.y to General Stoneman.

On Saturday Governor Wells replied to General Stoneman as follows:—
The subject matter of the within letter has been frequently brought to my attention, and what has been supposed to be the superior claim of foreign bondholders has been arged with great earnestness and force of language; but I am not able to appreciate the claim which is made, but rather piace the obligation of the State upon a higher ground than the one indicated—to wit, the moral obligation to pay in full and at the earliest practicable momental all of the State's indebtedness; falling to pay in full at present, then to distribute the largest per cent possible among all creditors. If, however, any discrimination could be made it should be in favor of widows and orphans, the helpless and distressed, who need for their present necessary maintenance and support the accrued interest on State bonds held by them. But even this peculiarly strong and meritorious claim has not thus far been esteemed sufficient to warrant the giving any preference or priority in payment, and I believe that, independent of special pecuniary interest, the policy of an equal distribution will finally command the approval of all the creditors of the State and establish her credit upon the firmest basis. The practical repudiation of any portion of the State indebtedness would receive the severest censure of the people, without regard to partisan feelings or political association; and they would undoubtedly now cheerfully submit to an additional tax to be levied for the purpose of paying the instalment due in July last, feeling themselves more than compensated for the temporary inconvenience it might occasion by the consciousness that they had discharged to the utmost their just liabilities. Therefore I cannot recommend the payment of foreign bondholders before a like payment has been made to all others, but would respectfully urge such additional taxation, at once, as will enable us to pay four per cent to all bondholders on the lat of January, 1869.

H. M. WELLS.
